How to play [or Instructions]

- Have participants sit in a circle. Number them off 1-4.
- The game leader will call out a number (1-4) and all the players that have been given that number will stand up and run clockwise around the circle.
- A runner is “out” if they are passed on the outside by another player while running around the circle.
- This continues until one player is left for that number.
- The leader of the game will then continue this with the other numbers until there are winners from numbers 1-4.

- The winning players from each number will then have to run in a final round to compete to be the ultimate winner.

Variations of the Game

- Students can be numbered off by more or less than 4 depending on the size of the group.
