Players: No limit

Age Range: Any age

You will need:

- Blindfold

How to play [or Instructions]

- One participant is selected as the “captain” and they are blindfolded.
- The “captain” sits apart from the group of participants.
- The leader chooses one player who says “Good morning captain!”. The captain tries to name the speaker.
- If the captain correctly identifies the speaker, they can remain as the captain.
- If the captain incorrectly identifies the speaker, the speaker becomes the new captain.
- Players should try to disguise their voice.

Variations of the Game

- Any phrase can be used besides “Good morning captain”.
- For older students, there can be more competition by having two captains who try to guess the speaker correctly first.
